As to relevant - Injuries, Infections and Recoveries experienced by Graeme Parker years 2004 - 2023

November 2004 - Hernia Inguinal, Left

Location – Town of Barra da Lagoa, Ilha Santa Catarina, Brazil

Rupture of Left Side Vas Deferens and subsequent Hernia Inguinal

Inguinal Canal Hernia due to rupture of Vas Deferens, seminal fluid entered bloodstream.

Cause – Dream Experience

'I am married to Hannah from Bahia, living in a London apartment and she is running a restaurant wearing new knee height lace up boots, I wake up saying "I am only with you for your food!"'

Penis is erect and weak ejaculation as I feel rupture to left side Vas Deferens and semen entering blood stream. Following ejaculations contained blood.

Through study of internet I become aware of Arthurian story of the Fisher King, who receives a spear to his left testicle. Archaeological expedition initiated 8 months later.

Treatment and Healing

February 2007

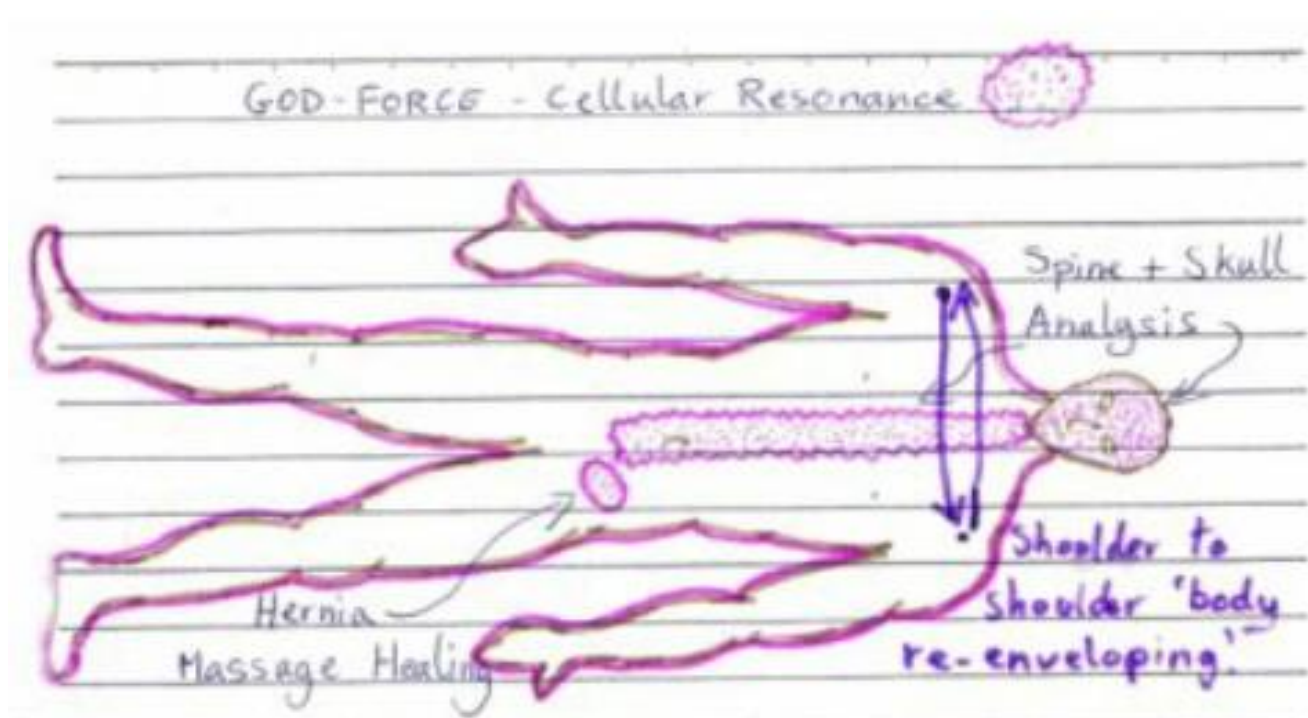

Sponsored by father's Brazil visit I receive consultancy from Urologist at Baia Sul Hospital Florianopolis , ultra sound scan revealing Hernia Inguinal. Visit local Catholic Hospital and consider operation, felt uncomfortable towards Jewish surgeon who wanted to use operation as example to students. I follow advice of Surf Coach and don't have operation.

August 2008

Excavation at beach headland site of Praia Gravata

Setup this experience while sleeping nearby

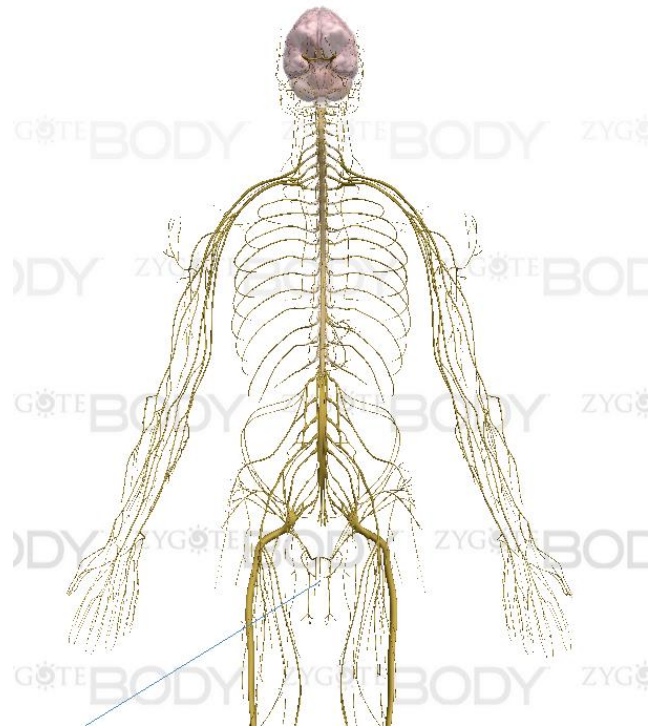

Hernia receiving massage by 'paranormal' force.

April 2013

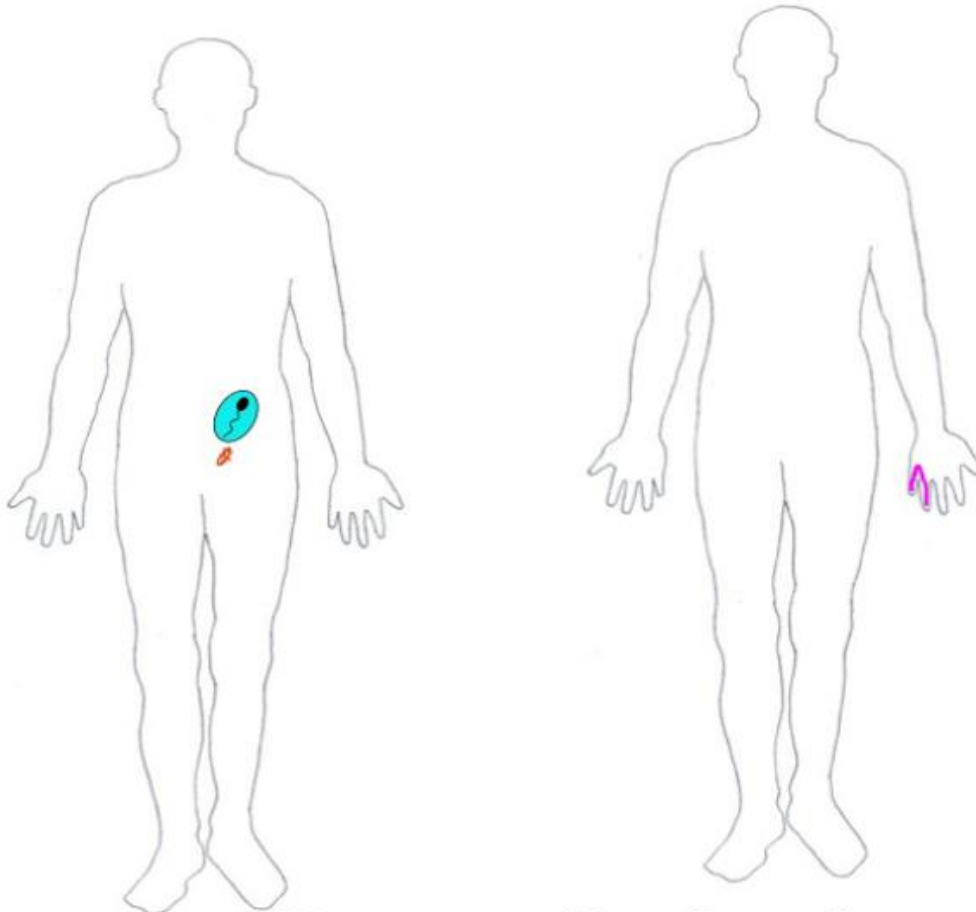

Ultrasound scan in Hinchingsbrooke Hospital, Huntingdon revealed healed Inguinal Canal.

February 2006 - Limb Paralysis Disease

Central Nervous System

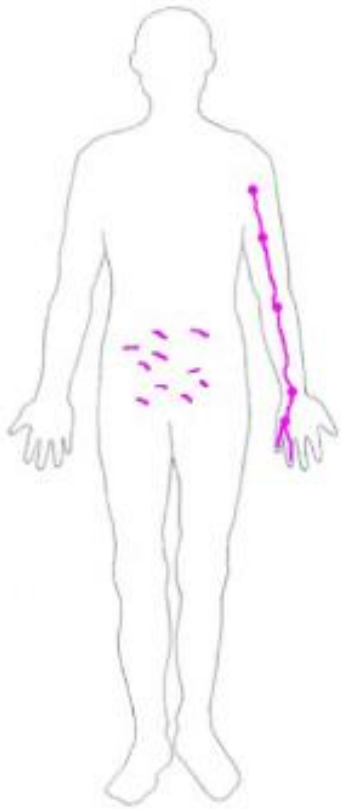

'Dreams of left side of body turned to wood my eye a knot'

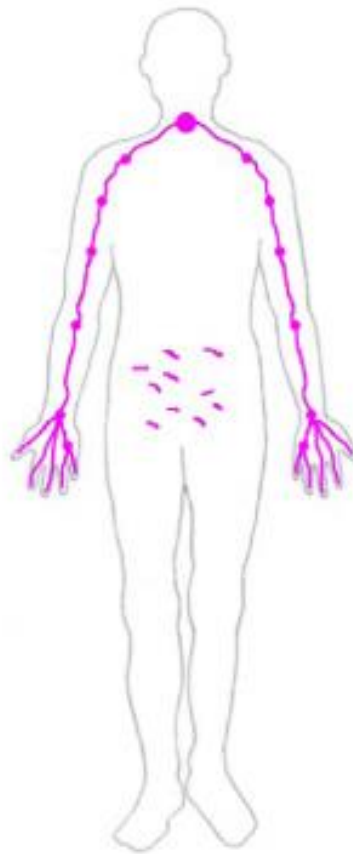

October 2004
Rupture of Left Side
Vas Deferens, Semenal Fluid enters blood stream

+16 Months - February 2006
Paralysis attacks of Left Hand
Fingers 4 and 5 during sleep.

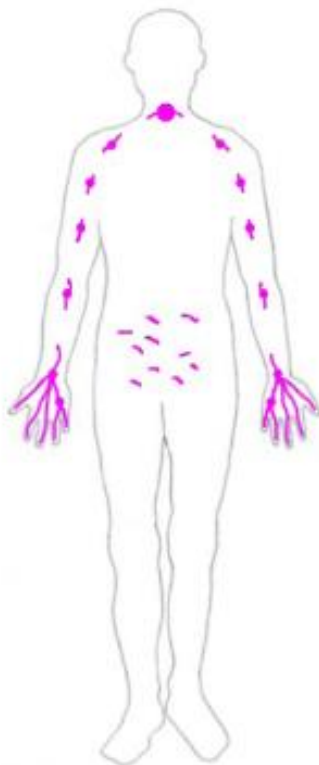

Archaeology expedition commenced August 2005

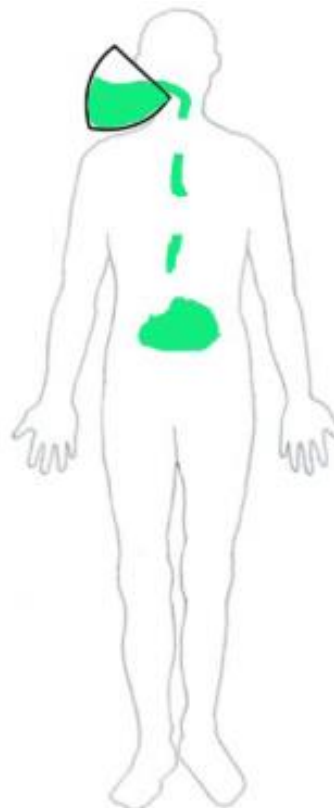

+16 to 26 Months
Nodal Spores formed up Left Arm
Paralysis Attacks connecting Nodes during sleep.
Bowel infection - sloppy highly repugnant faeces.

+27 Months February 2007
Synapse growth across nape of Neck. Highly efficient total attack to right arm and hand.

+27 Months - February 2007
Nightly attacks to both hands.
On entering sleep, slight
Tremoring of infected flesh
prior to paralysis attack.
Waking from attack - slight dizziness limbs shaken back to life

February 2007
Oral ingestion of cold
Water anti-parasitical medicinal tea
'Flor da Amazonia'
Ceased paralysis attacks

February 2007

Cured by traditional Brazilian Indian medicinal tea, 'Flor do Amazonas' –used to combat parasitic worm infections. Most effective ingredient of tea being 'Ipe Roxo' also known as 'Lapacho' – this being the inner bark of the tree 'Tabebuia Impetiginosa'.

Tabebuia Impetiginosa

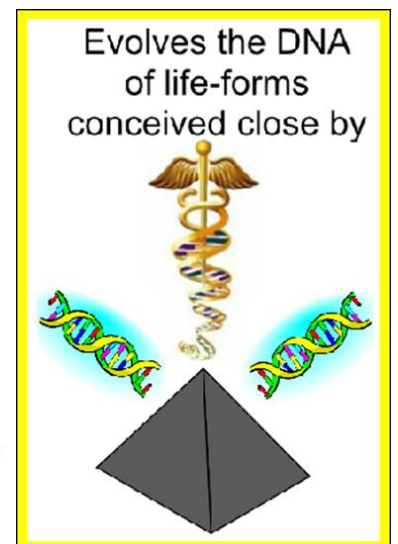

At height of infection I could hear worm's 'fizzing' in back of brain.

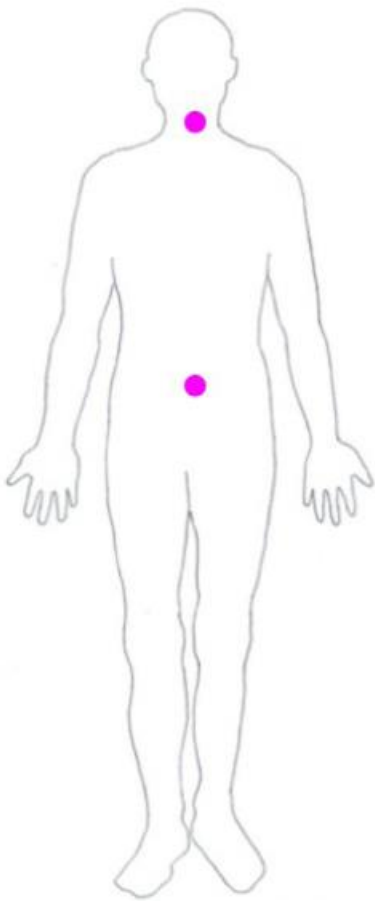

June 2007
Close proximity of
The Ark of the Covenant
Induced re-growth of
Residual spore in neck

April 2008
Growth of spore
Regions at base of spine,
Left hip and 2 nodes deep in chest

Often on arriving at Ark Temple site I would experience a loose bowel movement, belief that 'Neuronal Worm' having saturated my bowels – sloppy faeces of highly repugnant odour. Old Testament provides teachings as to closed Ark enclosure area and acceleration of leprosy infections on entering.

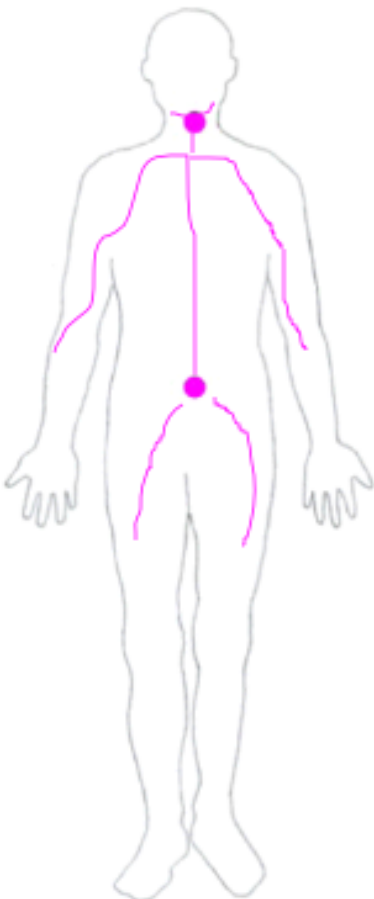

September 2012
Mild Flu viral infection
Lowered metabolism inducing Regrowth - spasm at hip and neck spores. Cured with Lapacho
Tea - active component of
'Flor da Amazonia'

August 2019

Hands are sensitive to cold weather, sometimes wake up with fingers 3 and 4 in state of paralysis. I keep a store of Lapacho Tea purchased on Amazon and consume when necessary. Have devised skin gel from mixing Lapacho Tea with hair gel.

Feel damaged 'floppy' neck, suffers fatigue muscle pain from sporting activity.

November 2022 – March 2023

Resident in Reef Surf Lodge Newquay sleeping in bed with electrical plug socket either side of pillow observe this stimulates growth in neck and base of spine often being awoken by growth spasm's to these areas.

October 2023

Having spent the summer in motorhome parked in campsites, continue to experience growth spasm to base of spine about 3 times a week. This also stimulated by laziness and/or sunbathing exposing lower spine to sun.

Have increased consumption of Lapacho Tea and albendazol de-wormer.

Also Luteolin to stimulate re-growth of central nervous system.

Am sensitive to cold weather and sense the worse spasms are reaching out to body extremities as though nodal spore at base of spine is a kind of nest of worms that are slowly seeking to totally paralysis whole body.

During paralysis first onset I became interested in cures for snake bites and insect stings. One cure for snake bite is to bury the bitten limb in mud or apply a mud bandage, the mud performs a transfusion of water removing water from muscle tissue and replacing it with moisture from the mud.

I also attended the Toxicology department of Florianopolis University Hospital, becoming an inpatient I received tests to blood, semen and faeces. I was then referred to psychiatry.

For further information see document 'The Wormwood' and letter to 'John Woods of St Neots', my mother Wendy Parker having died from a limb paralysis disease November 2002.

Experimental Dosage of Anti-Psychotic Haloperidol

7th October 2010 – 18th October 2010

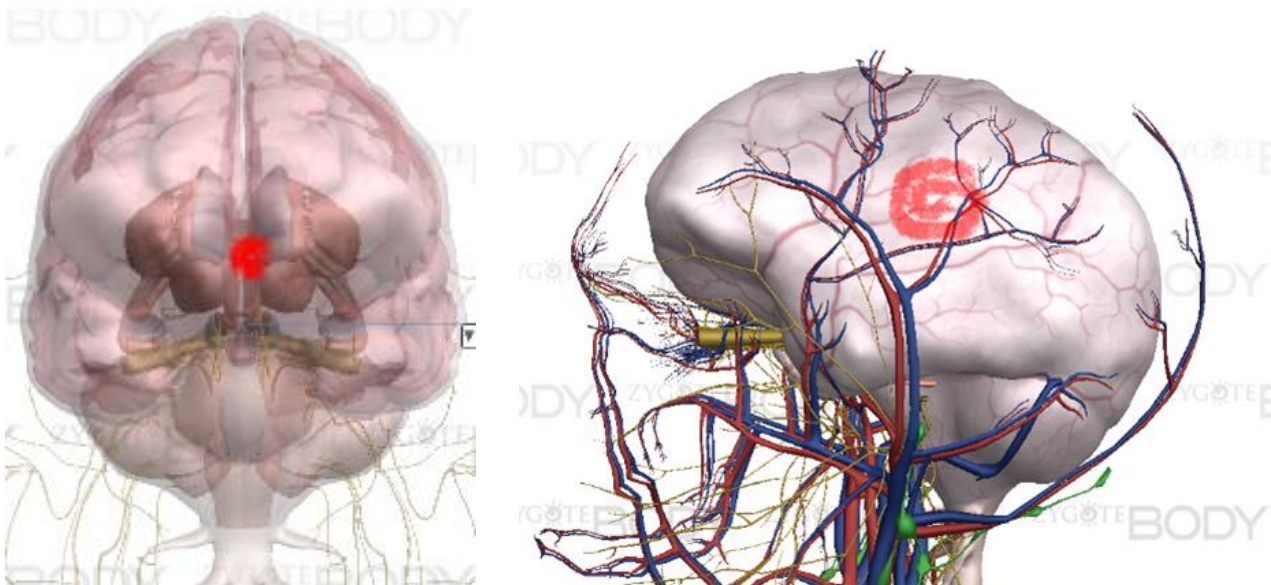

Location: Colonia Santana Psychiatric Hospital, Santa Catarina – Brazil

Cause: Abduction by Brazilian Federal Police and incarceration under false testament <see document 'Incident Report – Brazilian Federal Police'>

Dosage: 5 large injections; 3 tablets; 14 forced oral ingestions.

Immediate effects:

Second injection burst blood vessel deep inside brain consequence being 'internal voice gone into overload', I then tested my ability to concentrate and found it very hard to deal a pack of cards into their suits. Consequence of oral ingestion being severe diarrhoea, heavy flu and regrowth of paralysis disease in hands and experimenting Doctor calling my friends informing them of my whereabouts.

8th October 2010

Second injection burst blood vessel deep inside brain.

August 2019

Feel shrunken brain region 'like a bubble' above left ear and to left side of roof of mouth

Treatment for permanent discomfort to left side of brain:-

Regular use of soluble aspirin, turmeric, nutmeg and green peppermint teas – these having blood anti-coagulant properties.

Avoid all alcohol – a small quantity results in long periods of brain pain.

Oral ingestion of cannabis oil is effective in relieving discomfort inhibiting sleep as is occasionally smoking cannabis but feel the oil build up in left side cavity between brain and skull. Use of eucalyptus inhaler to relieve blocked left sinuses – due to mild haemorrhaging.

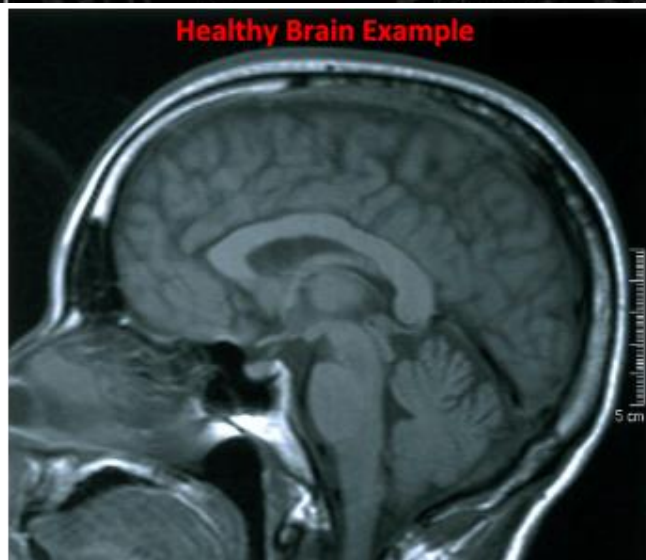

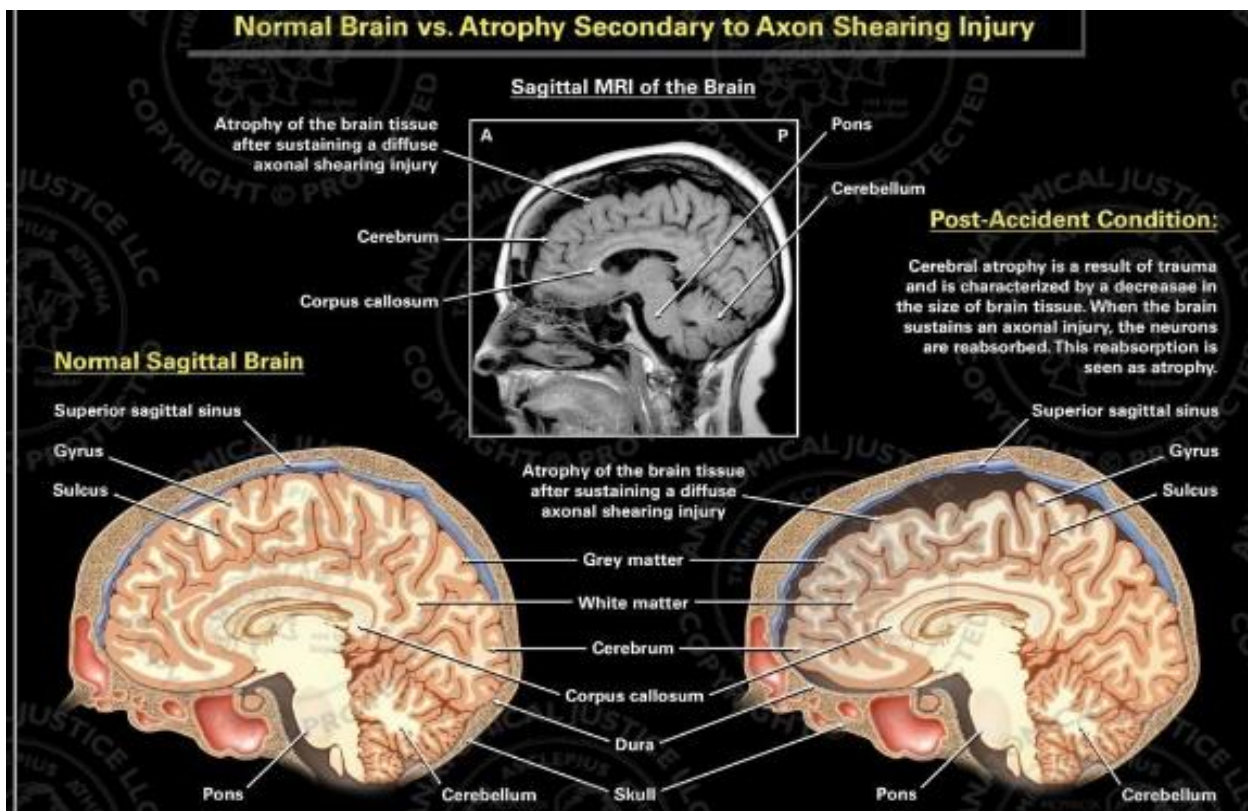

Spring 2021

Gorging on butter, a bike ride and eating an ice cream resulted in severe sharp pains to left side of brain combined with tremor/ paralysis to left wrist. Fear of stroke – visited local GP.

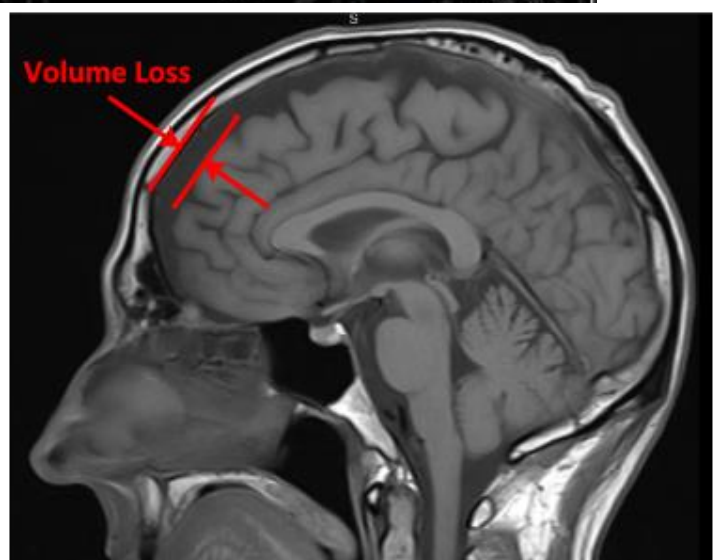

September 2022

Large wave surf session in Scarborough, Yorkshire induced torsional load on brain felt through left ear. Woken in middle of the night (maybe due to full bladder) severe dizziness and almost blackout. Continued sharp stinging pains to left side of brain attempt to sweat it off in gym didn't succeed and booked MIR scan in London and a period of rest from training.

MIR Scan Results and Comparison to Healthy Brain Tissue – October 2022

Healthy example through centre of skull

Brain of Graeme Parker

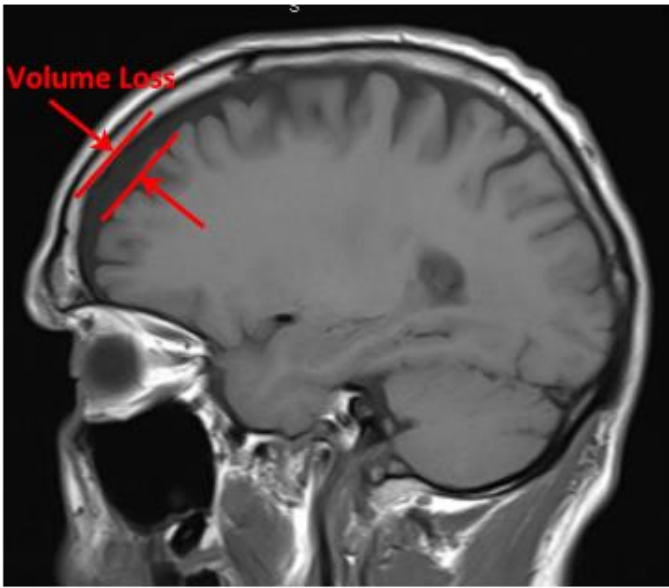

Image through left eye socket

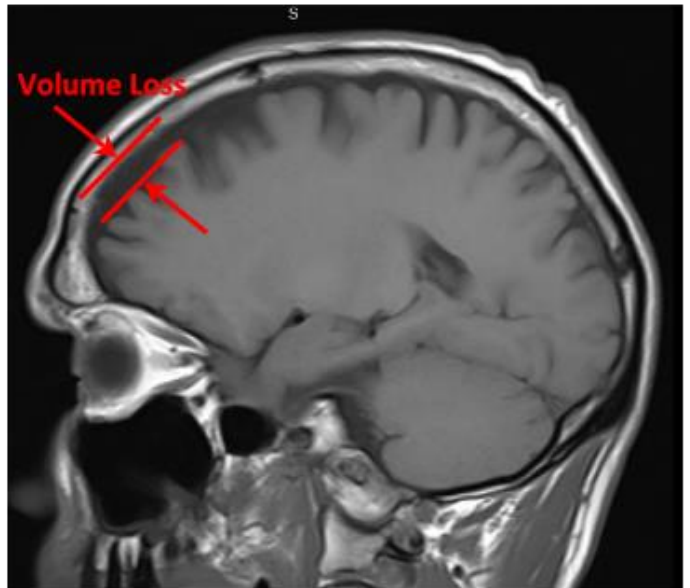

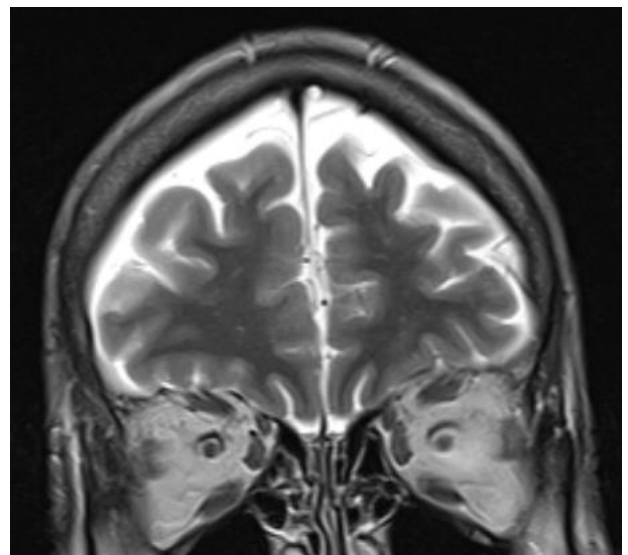

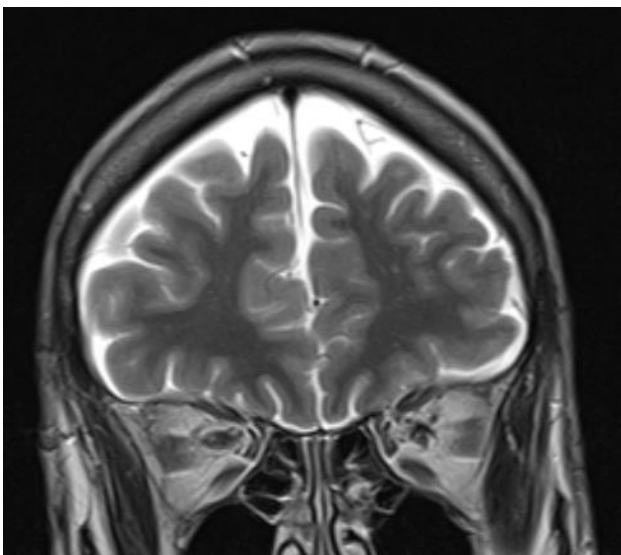

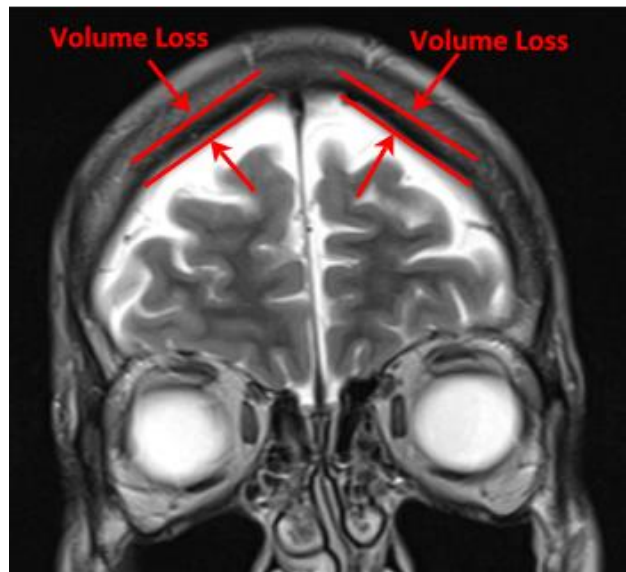

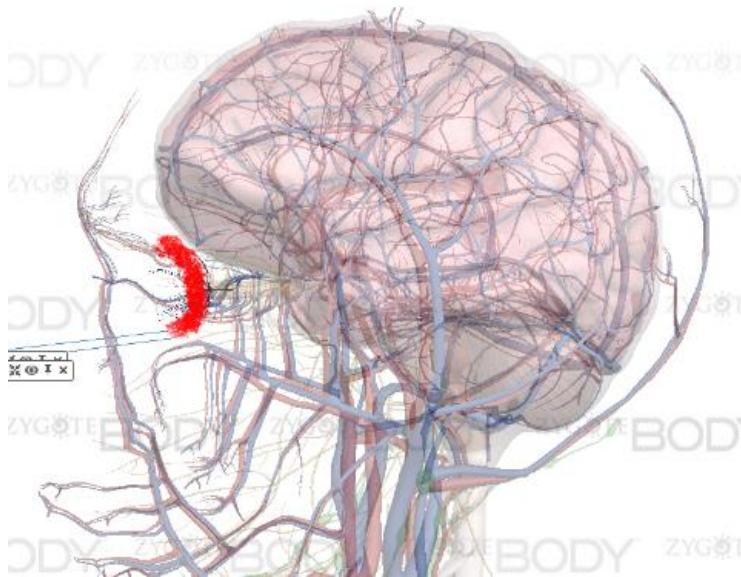

Image through right eye socket

Four images showing volume loss to front lobal region of brain and prominent bi-lateral cerebrospinal fluid space, this explains discomfort felt in cold weather.

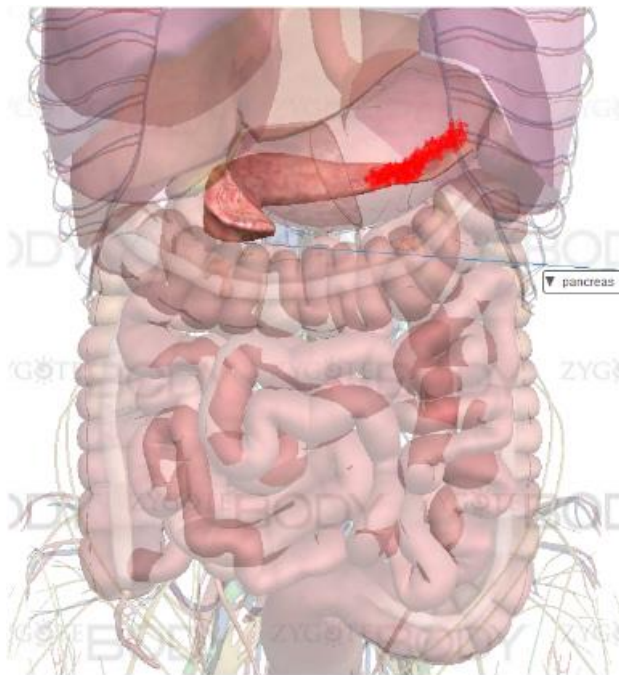

Shrinkage of brain is biased to left hand side, inducing slight torsional load this is amplified during maximum athletic strain. Have since avoided milk products particularly butter and cream, long term avoidance has relieved sinus blockage and the brain feels less foggy. Since November 2022 have spent much time in steam room and sauna and this is preferable prior to bed time. Year 2023 have been attempting 'Neurogenesis' assisted by Lions Mane mushroom supplement, take this during steam room time and prior to bed and feel the shroom stimulating front region of brain.

Haloperidol saturated front lobe region of brain, resulting in chemical scolding of eyes, has blurred vision and need glasses to read small print.

Prior to Haroperidol experimentation my eyesight was perfect.

Treatment for damaged eyesight – wish to explore oral ingestion of Aloe Vera gel mixed with walnuts and lemon juice.

Forced oral ingestion of Haloperidol has damaged digestion. Initial reaction being one week of severe diarrhoea.

August 2019 - Approaching 9 years of problematic digestion very rarely excreting a normal stool. Have soiled my pants on several occasions and often have to run to the lavatory.

Near Fatal Infestation of Ascaris Worms

April 2011

Location – Favela Estreito, Florianopolis Brazil

Cause – unknown

Onset – December 2010 two months after assisted escape from Colonia Santana Psychiatric Hospital. Observe two large worms, similar in appearance to beansprouts, in faeces about 3 times a week.

April 2011 – Eating a meal of rice, beans and eggs while camping in Joaquina Beach Dunes – experienced severe abdominal pain as worm infestation multiplied. Large worm exiting anus – presentation to Medical Centre (Posto de Sauade, Lagoa da Conceicao) Doctor provided prescription for 5 large Albendazole tablets – cost R$25. My income at that time was from that of hustling car drivers for change as I watched their cars parked in the street.

Unable to purchase medication, another 3 days passed – hiking in dunes experienced excess saliva with a soapy taste. Visited friend known as 'Boca the mechanic' – told him 'I was going down!'. He purchased the 5 Tablets – I then passed about a basketball quantity of dead worms over the next few days.

Thanks to Boca I am writing this today – believe I was a few hours away from worm growth up my throat and down into my wind pipe!

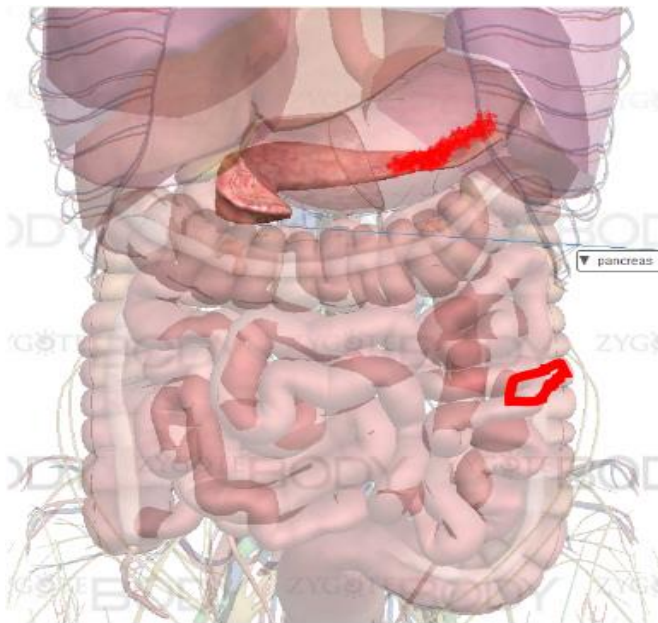

A dream followed of the 'Grim Reaper slicing my tent in two, with me in it, his blade brushing my left shoulder'.

My appearance then being of very little body fat.

Ascaris Worms

Note: At time of infestation I was devising first original concept artwork for Gameshow/ Video Game 'Time Tunnel – Atari Alliance' – following gift of book from travelling Bolivian/German lady.

August 2019 – Believe excessive internal pressure of worm infestation caused 'Leaky Gut Syndrome' combined with damage to Haloperidol ingestion. Some food, particularly wheat products, induce bowel pain in region indicated.

Bone broth and rice based diet seems best. Regular use of probiotics, fibre gel and collagen. Recent meal of several steaks induced diarrhoea – several weeks passed and observed much food was not being digested.

October 2023 - Cancer of the Colon

Problematic digestion worsened and believe experiencing onset of cancer of the colon. Woken by localised pain in colon during sleep as bowels move. Am now avoiding all wheat and cereal grain products. Curing found with 'Budwig diet' particularly mango, avocado, honey, cottage cheese, pumpkin seeds, pomegranate. Dreams spun by deceased maternal grandfather who died from this condition informing prawns, squid rings and pork help rebuild gut, on writing this (10th October) have successfully provided a healthy firm stool the first for a long time, but eating rice crackers caused sloppy bowel movement. This cancer onset coincided by informative visit from an un-dead ghost in Newquay campsite, tent surrounded by cawing crows and devising 'Time Tunnel – Stargate Pandora and competing in Christian Surfers Croyde event the host twice saying prayers for a friend recently deceased from pancreatic cancer.

Cancer Infection – Throat Right Side

November 2011

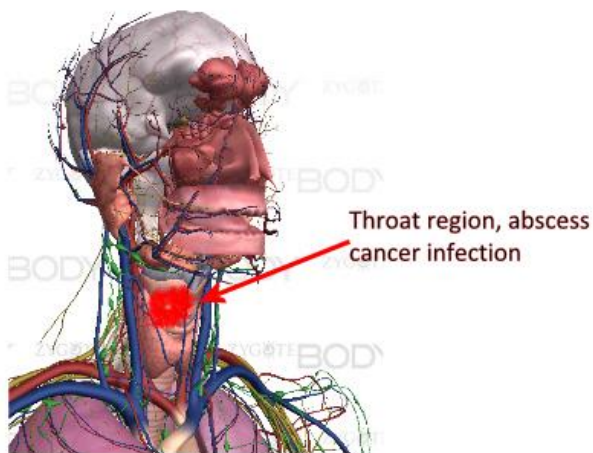

Location – Estreito, Favela Florianopolis

Cause – Long term abscess growth in throat right side caused by rotten tooth root covered by synthetic tooth filling. Abscess irritated by smoking. Had previously been gifted un-fired clay pipe from pregnant travelling Bolivian lady of German descent. Use of pipe contaminated abscess with carbonized clay particles.

At this time my diet was extremely poor, excessive consumption of free coffee provided by supermarket and car dealerships – my work at this time being second concept artwork of Gameshow/ Video Game 'Time Tunnel – Atari Alliance'.

Sensation – Would wake from sleep with feeling of needles pricking my throat and then later in lungs. Recurring dreams of Limes and Valdera (recently deceased owner of property) saying 'You smoke in this house you'll get cancer!'.

Cure – on waking with pricking feeling in throat would suck on fresh limes and gargle with lime juice kept in glass beside bed. Quit drinking coffee and would go for early morning sprint training runs in park to get oxygen into blood.

During early morning sprint training Monday 28th November 2011 in Estreito Park, two ladies entered park and stopped and stared at me. I smiled at them in return, twenty minutes later a Guarda Civil Swat Team surrounded me saying 'I match the description of a man messing with a ladies bag!'. I was then reincarcerated in Colonia Psychiatric Hospital and a kind nurse provided me with Limes.

Observation – I believe the cancer cell is at it's most weakest and vulnerable state just after it's growth stage (pain causing) – hitting it with Vitamin C in Lime juice kills it.

Cancer Infection – Vas Deferens Right side

June 2019

Location – Lanzarote, Canary Islands

Cause – Excessive coffee consumption, cheap pork sausages and lack of sex.

Up to this period of time had spent much time drinking coffee contemplating global politics and the effect of introducing the Ark of the Covenant. Consequence being production of video 'The Whore of Babylon or Bob', research for video gained knowledge that British Politician Nigel Farage has one testicle.

About an hour after drinking coffee would regularly feel throbbing pain to right side Vas deferens, mirrored location to 2004 rupture. Region of discomfort spreading down into right testicle.

Dream experience – 'It is Gareth Bales funeral at Real Madrid stadium – I am in the conscious spirit of his wife' – following night dream – 'My testicles are footballs and have testicular cancer, I am having a conversation with a woman about Walls pork sausages that cost 50p, lack of sex and am shown coffee as a 'black death liquid'.

Cure – raised athletic training, quit all intake of coffee, black caffeine tea and english breakfasts. Recurring dreams of Avocado, Mango and Orange Juice mixture – a diet which I am following for breakfast, however my bowels don't enjoy avocado (laxative effect) also commenced consumption of cottage cheese, pumpkin and flax seeds (linseed) – advice from internet and Budwig Diet.

Throbbing pain has subsided but had relapse due to eating a tin of soup – am now avoiding processed canned foods.

Have invested in a Rife Generator (see Spooky2.com) and a small quantity of rubies. Rife Generator functions by targeting cancer cells with EMF radiation waves at a resonant wavelength frequency of infecting cell – destroying them. Have belief that if 432Hz sound energy is passed through rubies before entering region of body, the rubies emit ions that encourage creation of water molecules to heal a diseased area, and have converted a pair of headphones for this purpose.

Am sticking to much mango consumption – nipped it in the bud! <phew>

Exited Approximately 33+ Year State of Traumatised Shock

2006

Location – Lagoa da Conceicao and Estreito Favela, Florianopolis.

Dedicated to learning to surf from November 2002 onwards, as I confronted the fear and vulnerability of riding ocean waves, assisted recalling of childhood memories of my father's violent beatings (some of which with a military issue cane). Also I confess to using marijuana, it having the effect of improving long term memory recall.

The following dreamed experiences I believe were triggered due to having commenced archaeological expedition in August 2005.

'I am a baby in my father's arms, I am fighting for my life as my nose is broken and my mouth is full of blood – childhood friend Phillip Wigglesworth arrives to take me away on Ducati Motorbike'

'It is a Christmas day and I am a toddler joyfully playing a blue toy drum – asleep in a cot, my father and his mother are discussing outside my room – my father enters and lifts my legs up by clutching my toes – he then tries to break my toes with all his strength' – I wake up and am told 'There was something else prior to this'

Following night sleep

'I am a baby on the maternal bed, my obese father rolls on top of me and I am suffocating'

'I am a baby lying in a cot in the cottage hospital where I was born, on a shelf on the opposite wall is a wooden model of Stephenson's Rocket steam train – I realise I am dreaming and reach with my hands for the train with my fingers, but touching the train is like making ripples on a pool of water'

On waking from each of these experiences I felt a huge relief of inner tension and a feeling of the furrows on my forehead disappearing.

On playing music I now have excellent natural rhythm, I can run faster and all sporting ability is vastly improved – I am 35 years old, my Rastafarian friends declare me 'Re-born' (as an adolescent I had little self-confidence and abused alcohol from the age of 15).

I was born with deformed toes and the length of my arms and legs enables me to walk like a monkey – blessings and curses that offended my father's vanity.

My mother always used to wash the kitchen floor on her hands and knees using a cloth. When I was 5 years old we had a pet puppy, on her first pee in the kitchen my father slammed her nose into the floor – she was always a bit highly strung as a dog and would cry a lot unnecessarily. When she was seven my father had her destroyed by lethal injection.....

Other Notes and Occurrences

My closest friend and confidant from 2005 onwards was Fabio Quintinilano. Without Fabio's assistance I would not have discovered the Ark temple – he kept me fed when I had no money, he is also an amateur psychologist and thanks to his presence I created the screenplay 'As Surfistas da Roda' to dramatize the recovery of 'The Sword in the Stone'

October 2010 – during first incarceration and my receiving experimental dosage of haloperidol, Fabio had a freak motorcycle accident. The accident occurred within view of the mountain top temple site on the road that connects Barra da Lagoa to Mocambique beach. A power cable under repair dropped into his path and almost decapitated him, he took the blow in the mouth. Knocked off his bike a truck ran over his arm breaking it, he was airlifted to hospital lucky to be alive.

On recovering from experimental dosage of haloperidol in Estreito Favela I have this experience.

'A haggly witch is laughing in my face, in the dream I am punching her, she turns into Fabio his mouth full of blood' I wake up and the flu infection I have immediately goes away.

Ilha Santa Catarina is also known as 'Ilha das Bruxas' or Island of Witches, I am making this statement as to raise caution as to other persons who may become involved in the Ark's discovery... paranormal forces can be very wicked.

Also, two weeks after a Jewish doctor had finished her medical experiment on me, the former 3 times world champion surfer Andy Irons was found dead in a Dallas hotel room. Much speculation circulates as to the cause of death, but his passing has affected me very much as fellow surfers pay me great complement in comparing my ability to A.I a fellow monkey man born in Hawaii.

The Celtic Sea

Many myths and legends exist as to 'The Sword in the Stone', one I have heard is that of Tir Na-nog – the Celtic land far to the west of the forever young. On living in Ilha Santa Catarina local people referred to me as 'Manee' which means 'Of the Island'.

Prior to discoveries I studied the works of Carlos Casteneda – The Lessons of Don Juan, which provides the reader with Shamanic teachings of the Mexican Yaqui Indian – knowledge passed down from the Toltecs. His teachings use the expression 'The world of inorganic beings' which is an alternative understanding of the 'Spiritual realm'.

For the last 6 years I have spent much time surfing in the Celtic Sea off the north coast of Cornwall – I have become superstitious to surfing there now following 2 severe accidents.

April 2014

Surfing low tide at Fistral Beach, conditions were small about 2ft, I was showing off my ability in front of 2 German surfers. Exiting the water I could have stood up and walked out of the sea holding my board – instead I tried to catch the 'shore dump' riding board on my belly. The wave picked me up and slammed me headfirst into the firm sand, snapping tip of board, teeth went through my lip, I almost broke my nose and am lucky didn't break my neck.

June 2018

Following filming of video 'Rise of Anubis' – my favourite board was returned to me by a friend who had repaired it. This friend played the role of Anubis in the comedy video, he had put a too sharp a point on the tip of the board and I was wary of it for a week. Surfing Fistral beach on choppy 4 ft high tide surf, I was the only surfer in the water and surfing very well. Then one wave I caught pitched me over the front tip of the board, a following wave slammed the board with great force point first into my head. The impact missed entering my eye socket by about 3 mm.

I have another tale to tell about a knee injury but will keep it to myself and the inorganic beings... It seems that whenever I make a 'Self In-powering Statement' such as an artwork or a display of athleticism - a force, lifeform or disease seems to try to strike me down so it's for the best that I document the knowledge gained in self-healing.
